

IN THE SPECIFICATION

Please replace the paragraph bridging pages 10 and 11 of the instant application with the following:

--- Similarly, data may be conveyed, which programmable automata controllers do not usually use, such as sound or video. This information may also be utilized by the application itself (a video capture module connected to a video processing module) or may be used by external applications or by services linked to the automatism (for example remote maintenance of an automatism installation).---
